The Portable Intermittent Fault Detector™ (IFD™) Achieves CSA Certification Marking

Roy, Utah. March 30, 2020 — Universal Synaptics announced today that the portable Intermittent Fault Detector™ (IFD™) is CSA® compliant. The portable IFD product line meets the specific, defined and nationally recognized standards for safety and performance in the United States and Canada.

“Our customers and partners rely on our intermittent fault detection products to solve real world diagnostic issues and increase system readiness”, said Ken Anderson, President & CEO, Universal Synaptics. “Adhering to the most comprehensive industry standards affirms our organization’s commitment of user safety and product performance.”

The CSA Certification Marking of the IFD-128™, IFD-256™, and IFD-512™ attests to the quality and safety of the IFD products providing our commercial and government clients with additional confidence in our dedication to continual improvement and safety. The portable IFD meets CSA Standards CAN/CAS-C22.2 No. 61010-1-12 Am1 and UL Standards UL Std. No. 61010-1 (3.1 Edition) – Safety Requirements for Electrical Equipment for Measurement, Control, and Laboratory Use.

About Universal Synaptics

Universal Synaptics Corporation is the global leader in detecting and isolating elusive intermittent faults. For more than 25 years the privately-owned company has focused on solving complex diagnostic and testing problems. The company's research into the primary root causes of intermittent / No Fault Found (NFF) problems and the massive digital testing void that exists today with conventional test equipment, led to the development of the patented Intermittent Fault Detector™ (IFD™), hardware neural network and all-lines-all-the-time wiring / circuit analyzer test solutions.

Universal Synaptics was voted the Department of Defense Maintenance Symposium "Great Ideas" Competition Winner in 2010 and 2012. Recognized as the Mountain West Capital Network Utah 100 list of fastest growing companies in Utah five times, and a "Fast 50" growing company by Utah Business Magazine, Universal Synaptics also secured a spot on the Inc 5000 list of "Fastest Growing Private Companies in the United States" ranking 218 out of 5000 companies.
